

Workable and replicable emerging S&T based solutions, and potential framework for integrating Indigenous knowledge/experiences

Moderator:

Dr Shirish Ravan, UNOOSA, Vienna

Panel Input:

To help define and implement workable and replicable new development model for integrating emerging S&T based solutions with Indigenous knowledge.

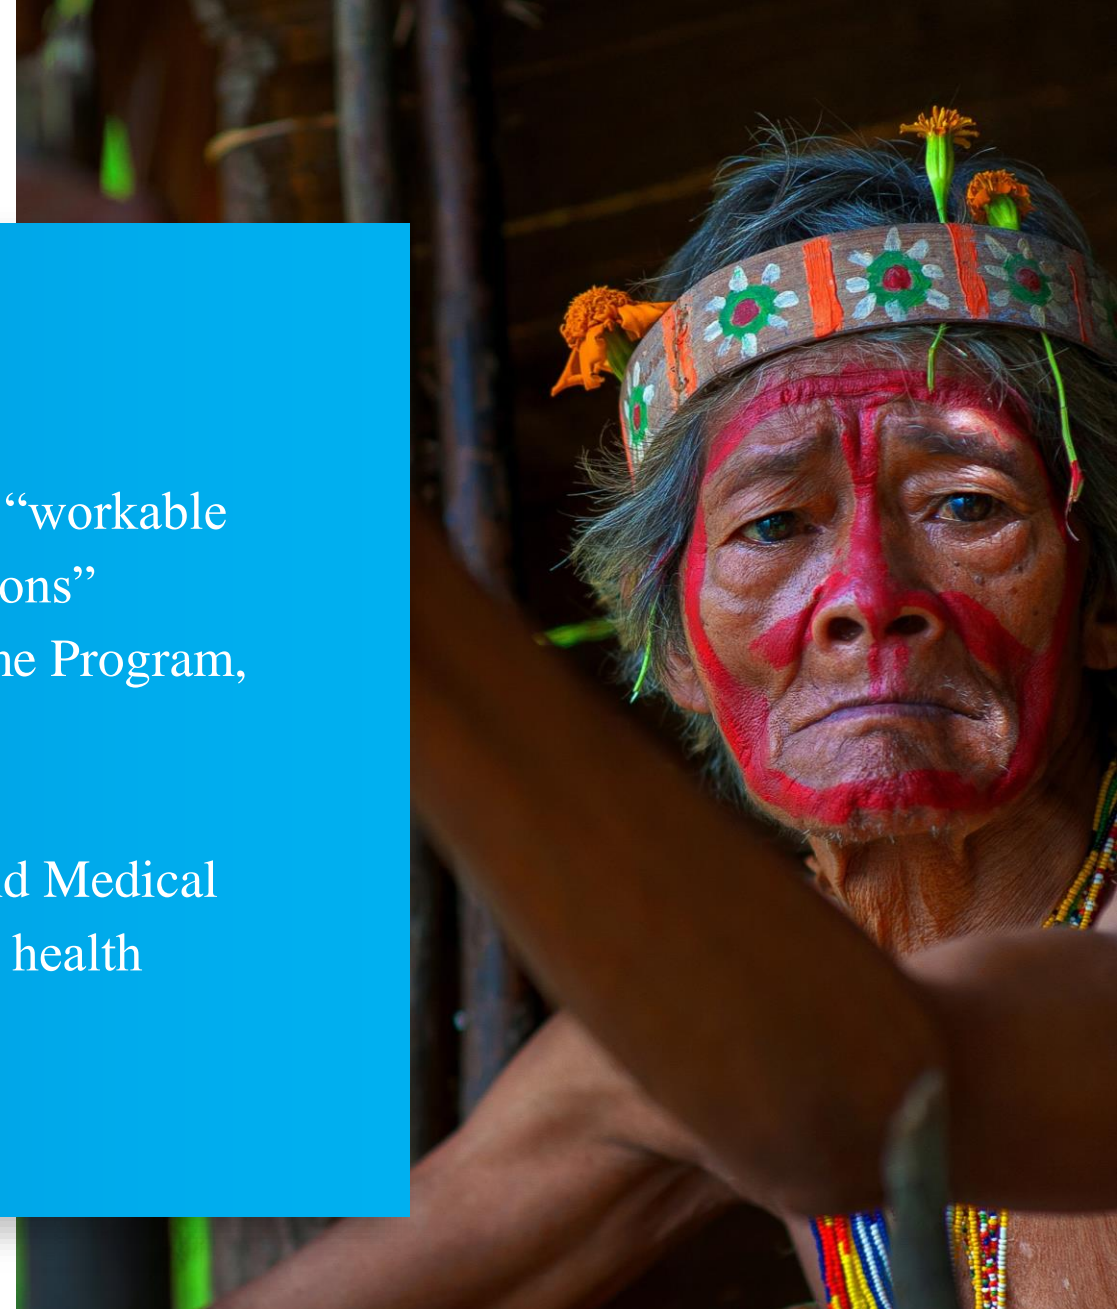

May 4th, 2021

United Nations, New York

Panelists:

- Ambassador Mr. Marco Suazo, UNITAR, “workable and replicable emerging S&T based solutions”
- Dr. Lilia Yumagulova, Preparing Our Home Program, “framework for integrating Indigenous knowledge/experiences”
- Dr Nandu Goswami, CANEUS Europe and Medical University, Gratz, “integrating Indigenous health solutions with traditional medicine”

May 4th, 2021

United Nations, New York

UNITED NATIONS
Office for Outer Space Affairs

Preparing Our Home

- Capacity building
- Youth leadership
- Technical training
- Solutions
- Peer learning

May 4th, 2021

United Nations, New York

Technology and Tradition

- Data
- Stories
- Solutions
- Intergenerational planning

Credit: Tsunami planning workshop in Yuułu?it?ath Government; Digital torytelling in Ahousaht First Nation

May 4th, 2021

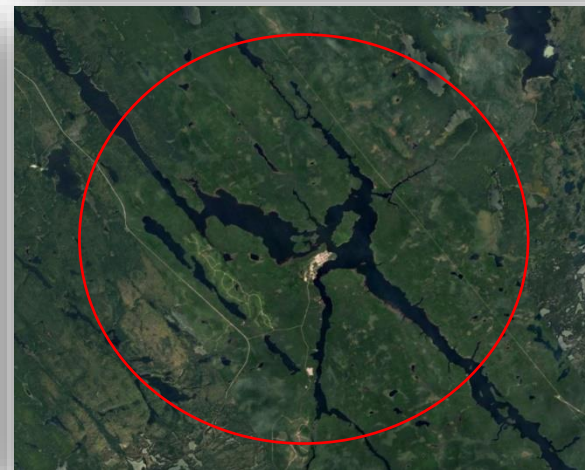

United Nations, New York

Mattagami First Nation

Connecting science with Traditional Knowledge

Credit: Bizhiw nindizhinikaaz Devin Naveau,
Mattagami First Nation

May 4th, 2021

United Nations, New York

Lil'wat Nation

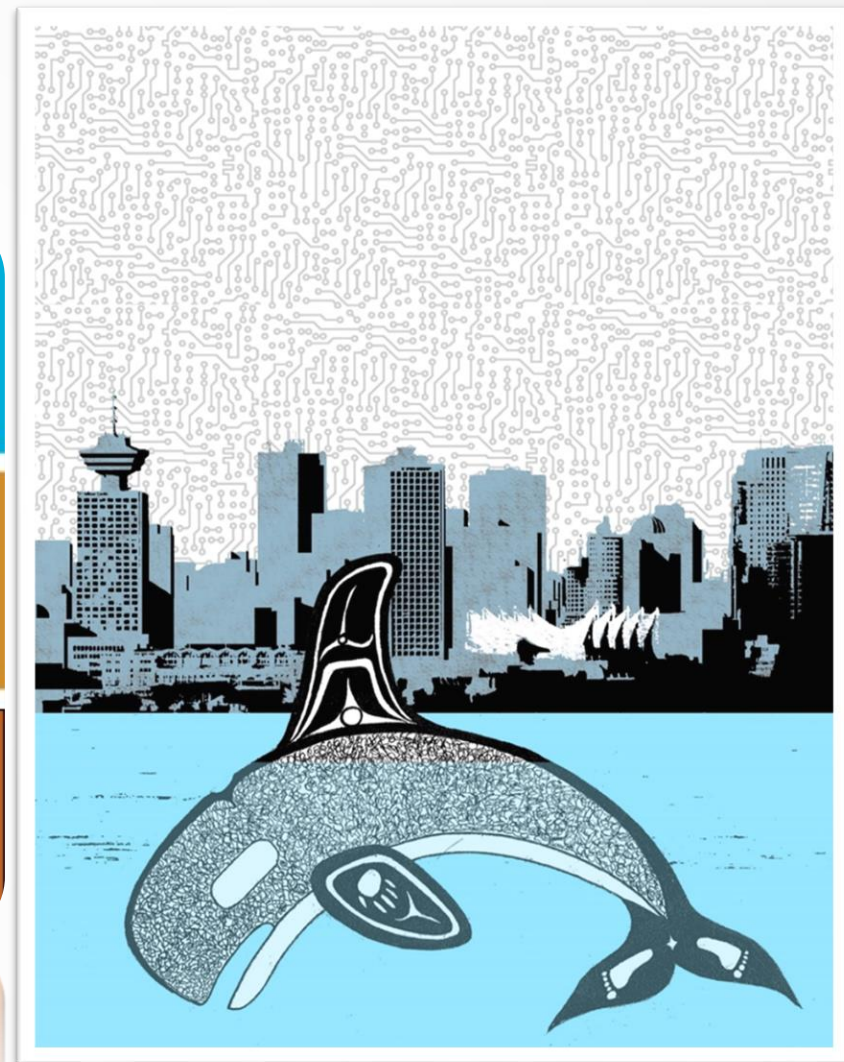

Credit: Casey Gabriel and Sandy Henry, Lil'wat Nation

May 4th, 2021

United Nations, New York

SDG 18 Culture

Carime Quezada, Ashiele Thomas, and Lilia Yumagulova

May 4th, 2021

United Nations, New York